PE- born Bronwyn Day's fashion career kicked off 19 years ago interning at Marie Claire Magazine in London. She soon realised that she had found her calling as a creative and went on to work as a fashion assistant at the prestigious Wallpaper Magazine where she learnt the tricks of the global fashion industry trade.

Despite the vibrancy and energy of the London fashion scene, Bronwyn missed the heat and pulse of Africa and decided to move back to Cape Town, where within a few short years, she was appointed the Fashion Director of GLAMOUR Magazine.

She remained in the fashion department for 7 years, until she branched out on her own to start her media showroom concept for South African Fashion designers called "THESHOWSPACE" in 2015. She juggled her media showroom with freelancing as a stylist on fashion shoots for three years before taking on freelancing full-time in 2018.

In 2019 Bronwyn focused more on women's empowerment through guest-speaking about fashion and trends at workshops and events for big brands countrywide. Bronwyn also presented a live weekly fashion segment on the Espresso Morning Show on SABC3, on behalf of Woolworths, to over a million viewers.

Hard- working and client -driven, she is also a highly sought-after stylist on international advertising campaigns during the high summer months in Cape Town and travels to Johannesburg frequently for her work.

Bronwyn resides in the heart of the City Bowl in Cape Town with her 2 sons, which allows her the freedom to work on various shoots with creative teams, in one of the most beautiful cities in the world.
