NAIL BEST DRESSED

A beach wedding is the one time you can get away with a suit and sneakers combo. If you're sure about the dress code, ask the groom what they're wearing and take your cues from the man of the moment. Remember – flip-flops are never an option, though leather sandals can work. Choose lighter shades: darker colours absorb sunlight, while lighter colours bounce it back, so you won't bake. You'll also want to wear breathable fabrics such as cotton or linen. If it gets too hot, take off the blazer – the tailored pants with the wavy belt look smart enough to wear on their own.

CONQUER THE CASUAL AFFAIR

You don't always need a suit, tailored separates, new textures, denim here, the contrast between the two of them, a touch of blue will make you look presentable but not overdone. A chambray shirt adds a casual edge and complements the minimalist appeal of the navy chinos and brown loafers. Don't wear a tie – a pocket square is all you need.
