TAMARYN GREEN

Bio

Medical Doctor | Miss South Africa 2018

Tamaryn Green is a South African model, medical doctor and beauty pageant titleholder who was crowned Miss South Africa 2018.

She represented South Africa in the Miss Universe 2018 competition and placed as the first runner-up.

In 2019, Tamaryn Graduated with a Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery degree (MBChB) after a seven-year journey at the University of Cape Town

Throughout her life, she has been exposed to both those who are privileged and underprivileged and what she has learnt is summed up as follows

"We are all human. we all want to be loved, we all want to belong, we all want to be seen and so, everyone should treat each other that way."

Tamaryn Green is only the second South African to place as first runner-up, in the history of South Africa's participation in the Miss Universe competition.
